For many Ghanaians who live abroad, one of the most pressing needs of most of them is how to secure the necessary documents to enable them legalize their stay. Many would tell you, is not an easy adventure. A lot of people have spent so much money seeing many people who claim to have divine means to support them but many of our people have been either duped and are highly disappointed by these so called divine men with special powers to impact decisions by the Immigration officials whose powers never worked. Well, the problem seem to be changing for some Ghanaians who reside in the US as one of the powerful spiritualists in Ghana, Nana Kwaku Bonsam is currently in the country to offer the divine intervention that those who have faith in African spirituality need.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam, a powerful spiritualist and alternative medicine man who has revolutionized and promoted the Akan spirituality and way of life called Akom in Ghana is the man behind all the success stories. Our representative of PREKESE GHANAMEDIA Inc in the US had the opportunity to meet some to interview about their testimonies about securing their documents.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam's name creates a lot of confusion and sometimes scare many people who lack knowledge in the Akan cultural ways of anthroponomy because Bonsam literary means the devil in the Akan language. What many people don't know is that in Akan naming celebrations, children are given automatic names corresponding to the day they are born until the seventh or eight day when a formal naming ceremony is organized. Kwaku means a male son born on Wednesday. And every Akan name has its appellation and Bonsam is the appellation for every male child born on wednesday signifying the behavior traits of wednesday borns are fearless, powerful and courageous. Nana Kwaku Bonsam's original name is Stephen Mensah and according to him, the name Kwaku Bonsam was given to him by an Ashanti chief (name and town withheld) who sought his spiritual assistance and was so pleased with the result that he exclaimed...."Woy3 Kwaku Bonsam ampa" ..literally You are really Kwaku the Devil thus making reference to his powerful nature.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam is a celebrity in spiritual matters in Ghana, and he is reputed to be the first Okomfo in the 21st century to break into getting media attention in Ghana paving ways for other spiritualists to make media appearance and making their own advertisements on radio using studio recorded jingles. Nana Kwaku Bonsam is also famous for exposing many fake people who are parading around in Ghana as church ministers who solicit the powers of the deities for their ministerial work. One of the testimonies is the Youtube video about a fake pastor Adjei Yeboah of Apatakesiease of a town in Bono Ahafo region where Nana confronted to retrieve a "suman-powers" he prepared for him from his deity Kofi oo Kofi.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam is a philanthropist who has donated millions of Ghana cedis to many Ghanaian government and private institutions i.e orphanages, the Ghana Broadcasting Corporation, private radio stations, schools and street children. Nana has single handedly built a basic school at Akomadan, his home town.

Nana has traveled extensively in Europe visiting Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium offering spiritual support. Videos of the visit can be accessed online at Youtube, just search Nana Kwaku Bonsam and one will be overwhelmed with a wealth of video resources of a man who has a commission by the divine spirits and the ancestors to help his people.

One of the people we met who has had his documents through was Agya Kofi Wusu, who has been living in the US for over 17 years as an illegal immigrant. In his own testimony, he said " I relocated to America after living in Germany for 5 years. Life was good there and I thought America would be better but I had the shock of my life when it dawn on me about how to legitimize my stay. I went through a lot spending all my savings on trying to get things right but to no avail. Then a friend in Germany mentioned Nana Kwaku Bonsam to me about the powers of Kofi oooo Kofi. I called Nana and we started working on it when he was in Ghana, and believe you me, brother, a week as Nana came he told me everything would be alright. I had faith and true to his prediction, here I am now a green card holder after 17 good years."

Well, readers, if you are a doubting Thomas and have been disappointed many times and have no place to go, let your faith take you there to give it a trial.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam's trip to the US has given him the opportunity to meet some of the high profile politicians in New York. He met with the Major of Mount Vernon after he saved a Ghanaian organized Cultural and Business Exposition dubbed Ghana Expo by dancing and displaying his powers at the event's venue at the Mount Vernon's White House. He is scheduled to visit the United Nations Office and to lecture at a New York High School next week where students are studying Africa's complimentary medicine. Nana has had an interview on Star Eloh Radio in New Jersey and Akwaaba Radio in Virginia.

Nana Kwaku Bonsam said.....many Ghanaians do need help but don't know where to go and many of them are wary of seeking spiritual help from true people after being duped by fake men of God. Some of them too are unwilling to come because somebody is brain-washing them. He said God is the same everywhere and He is the ultimate behind all natural powers. He is daring any doubting Thomas to come and experience the organic divine powers from our own country and see what God can do through our own people. Nana who is currently in Bronx, New York can be reached at : 718-902-8898
